Miscarriage☆Punch!

I suddenly had a terrible feeling

Around this time, while my little girl was moving in and setting up shop we had a car accident

I was so reckless... I scolded my hubby the construction stopped and the site collapsed. It was amazing

It was sudden, but we lost our first baby to a miscarriage (this was about half a year ago)

hehehe, my little baby

The day we found out, we had been fighting.

rub rub

The director of dermatology passed the time with this and that. He seemed extremely nice

Self-important old man whipped out a panel and unkindly explained how to use the ointment.

We went initially to dermatology, but since we had an introduction through a cousin who was an ophthalmologist

No side effects, you see

This is a very gentle medicine

We used our usual famous hospital in Shibuya

We rushed to the hospital

Let's go with the ideal Japanese woman

Suddenly, we were down 90 bucks

CASHIER OI

Please pay promptly

We didn't get any ultrasound photos but they told us to come again in a week

Even with the examination, there was no clear answer as to whether the baby was alive or not

This is another unsmiling doctor

Nonetheless, when my belly started to hurt, we rushed to the obstetrician: even though we had reserved, we waited 3 hours for a 5-minute examination

March edition

No appointments available, you can come if you would like but I don't know how long you'll wait said the hag on the phone, who then abruptly hung up the next day when I had excruciating pain even as compared to the day before, despite saying I wanted to make an appointment.

BITCH! I AM BLEEDING HERE!

Office hours are over. Please reserve an appointment after 9AM-

The next day my belly hurt even more and some blood came out... so I phoned the hospital

Hey, hey, there is blood coming outta me!

is what it said.

BONG

You are losing the baby. We'll hospitalize you right away and start operating tonight.

If it's about the birth, go to the Red Cross! Nachiko did when she delivered <3

I called my mother

Blah, blah hospital! blah blah your like blah blah H Hospital

I've heard some rumors..

Baby PUNCH Naoko Takeuchi Feb 8 Edition

I'd like to ask you, Doctor

Ms. — of Room — practices such-and-such a religion - today is her God's day of birth. What should we do?

While being taken in a wheel chair to the delivery room, I overheard an amazing conversation

Seems like she meant "is being born"

Gosh! What a surprise..

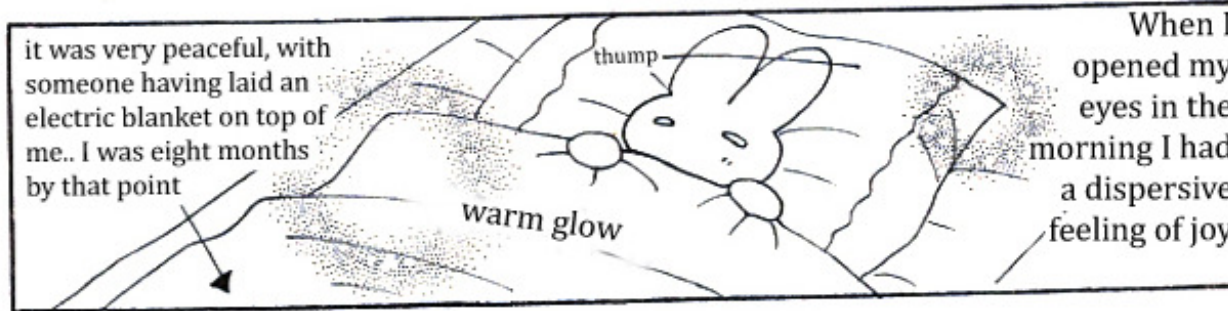

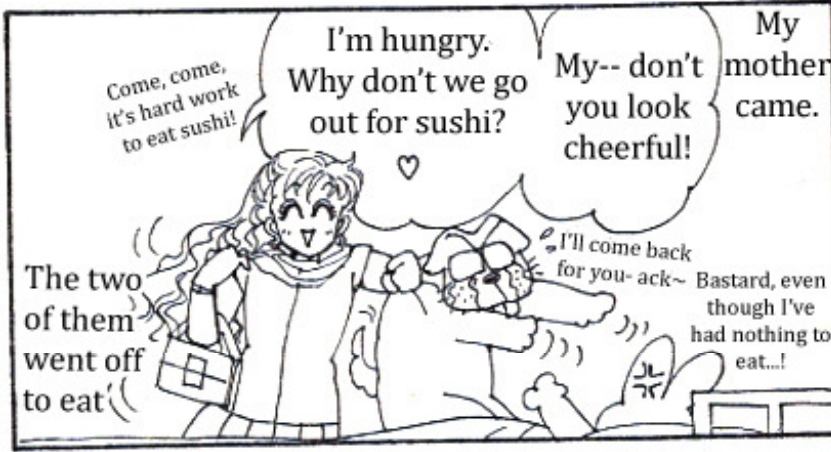

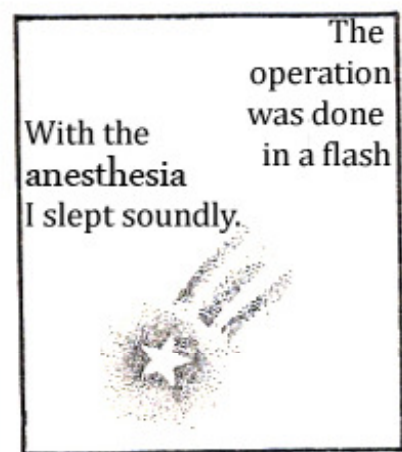

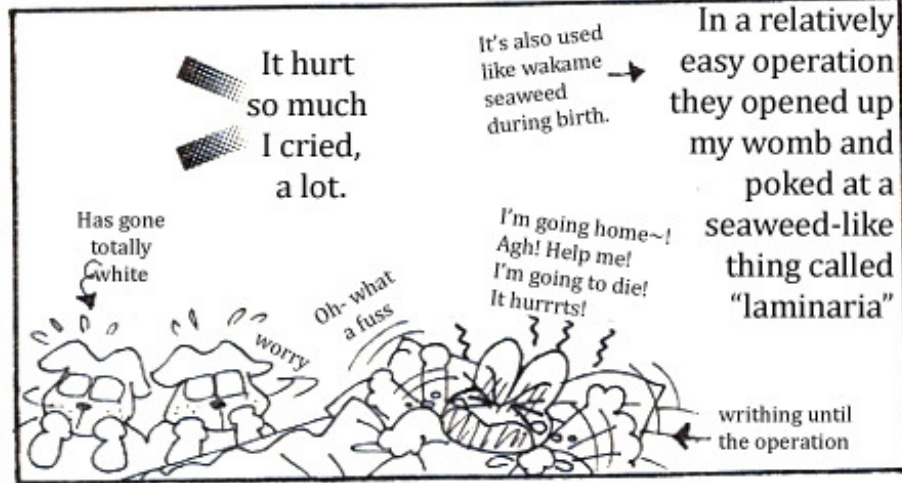

I'm going to have an operation

I called my mother

worry worry

Ahh- Tomorrow morning I'm going with your father to the onsen, I can't come!

(Note: this is an editorial note explaining the painting, largely illegible - it is a custom drawing involving someone gazing at their companion, a cat.

On the wall was the original color "Candy <3 Candy" painting!!

While going to the conference room, I looked at the wall
