This was a drawing I did in the anime cel style for fun. I wanted it to be such that a fan could open up an issue of the Nakagoshi manga and see what looks like the anime popping out at them from the page, and I think I achieved that! Unfortunately, I don't think my anime style versions look much like the 'official ones'! Man, it really has been a long time since I tried drawing like this. (laugh) And boy, as it turns out, I really am not good at coloring Sailormoon in cel shading style either. (laugh).

With her short blue kempt hair and a serious name like 'Ami', she really gave off the image of tranquil water. I've heard that there are tons of male fans of her too! (tee hee).

This short story also became an animation, 'Ami's First Love'. This is about her rival (?) and romantic interest, Mercurius, whom she is competing with for test scores.

This is a story focusing on Rei, called 'Casablanca Memories'. It is a one-shot romance that takes place just after Rei becomes a soldier, the title of which is taken from her favorite flower.

This is the special written by Takeuchi Naoko, 'The Lover of Princess Kaguya'. It was later made into an animated movie featuring Luna and her human lover.

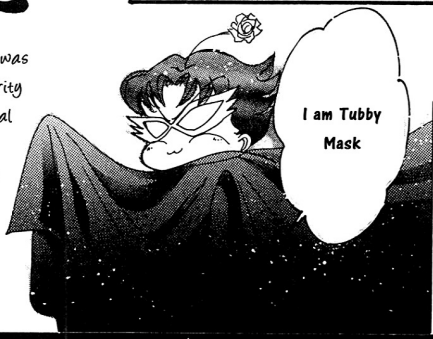

The first 'extra' story, 'Chibiusa Picture Diary'. Later, this was also made into an animated TV special.

The last of the Exam Battle series, this is Rei and Minako's Exam Battle'. Will a powerful Minako have what it takes to be a T.A. academy student?!
